We aim to provide a safe welcoming space for any men in the community over the age of eighteen. There they can share experiences and skills and overcome loneliness and isolation. whether as a result of bereavement or mental health problems.

There is no membership fee.

We meet every Monday morning for a cuppa and a blether and again on Thursday mornings where we spend time in our workshop. Here we can make such things as planters and logstores or carry out repairs. Again it is an opportunity for members to exchange ideas and skills.

The past year has seen our membership grow and we now number 24.On a typical Monday morning 15 or more members will meet. We enjoyed a historical talk about the events leading up to Culloden.

Our main activity during the year was the siting of a water storage system as we are currently not on mains water.We were also able to connect to the mains drainage system which we found close to our site.

In the workshop,we have installed a dust extraction system which allows us to connect all our wood cutting machinery and create a cleaner safer working environment.

We have recycled pallets to make log store and planters.We can undertake small repair jobs in the community subject to our physical limitations.

The charity at this stage does not have reserves.We aim to be self sustaining through donations, open days and local events.

Our regular costs are limited to our power supply and insurance. We do not have a deficit.
