Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The Church is an unincorporated association established in terms of the United Reformed Church Act 2000.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

The Trustees comprise the Minister (if appointed) and the Elders appointed by the Congregation.

The Minister is normally called through the United Reformed Church process whereby any vacancies are made known to URC ministers seeking a new position. Details are prepared by the congregation setting out information they consider may be appropriate for someone seeking a position as their Minister. The URC considers any applications and recommends a suitable candidate to the congregation who then invite the individual to preach. Following the service, the congregation decides whether to invite the individual to take up the vacancy, or whether to ask the URC to recommend an alternative.

In recent years, the URC has introduced an additional process which allows an existing member of the congregation to apply for training which would allow them to return, in due course, as Minister to their own congregation. Eilidh Young has started her studies in the autumn 2022 and is expected to completion from summer 2026.

The church is currently without an appointed minister and has been overseen by the Elders during the whole of 2025, with the support of a retired URC minister who was part of the congregation and was our Interim Moderator on behalf of Synod until her retirement in November 2025. A new Interim moderator was appointed by the Synod. Under URC processes, the church can only be declared 'vacant' and seek a new minister, on the approval of the Synod of Scotland. This was not possible during 2025 and is unlikely to happen with the calling of Eilidh Young to train for ministry.

Elders are elected by the Church Meeting and serve on the Elders' Meeting. Elders are ordained and remain Elders for life, but their period of active service is determined by Church Meeting. Therefore, after a set period, or due to age or illness, an Elder may cease to play an active role on the Elders' Meeting, becoming a "Non-serving Elder" and would no longer attend Elders' Meeting. At any future point, Church Meeting may vote for a "Non-serving Elder" to become once again a "Serving Elder." The Trustees of a Church are therefore the "Serving Elders."

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes

Principally the worship of God and the sharing of the Gospel.

Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects

The main activities are weekly worship, meetings aimed at helping growth in the faith of Church members and others, and joint activity with other churches, aimed at raising awareness of the Christian faith amongst the people of Bathgate.

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

2025 saw another full calendar year where we had no formal minister appointed by the URC.

A variety of different preachers were invited to take the Sunday service: many were retired ministers from other denominations, or lay preachers, and some members of the congregation also took part in leading services.

The membership has remained faithful throughout 2025, and our weekly attendance remained at similar levels to before with around 25 on a Sunday from a roll of around 38 members and adherents. We have sadly said goodbye to some who have passed away during the year.

We continued to focus on the same areas as follows:

- fellowship, support and spiritual teaching of church members and adherents – we welcomed visitors into the church and continue to support and include all who want to share in worship with us.
- participating in interfaith activities/community work – we are again engaged in working together with other churches in Bathgate to share services and support events.
- as part of the URC Synod of Scotland, there has been ongoing support for the Synod and many churches still host services online. In 2025 many Synod meetings were available online to allow as many people as possible to participate.
- internationally, the congregation continued to send funds to two children we support through Compassion. We currently support two young children.
- Fund raising activities – 2025 saw our Autumn Show – providing time for many people from our church (and others) to meet weekly for rehearsals and to entertain many over three nights in September. We had been concerned that the participants might be fewer than before, but new members increased the volume and allowed us to continue.
- We continued the use of premises by external groups and our monthly Soup lunch as a start towards recouping funds and time together.
- Donations to both UK and overseas work – we were able to make charitable donations to the local Foodbank (both cash and goods throughout the year), the Salvation Army, CHAS, the Asylum Seekers and Social Bite.

Financial commentary (summary below)

While many churches had struggled during the year, we recognise that we have been in a good position financially in recent years. Our members have remained faithful in their giving and have continued to give at their 'normal' level or more. In addition, the manse was fully let for the full year and brought in a significant income although there were also associated costs (see below). At the end of the year all our restricted accounts are up to date using some general funds to meet some balances.

We continue our contribution to the URC's Maintenance of Ministry which covers Ministerial salary costs. We continue to be aware of the cost of ministry across the URC but are also cognisant that we need to manage our funds for our own situation also.

We are careful to ensure that our manse is fully maintained, recognising it is one of our main assets. It is let through an agent who ensures all the regulations are met, and we deal with repairs as requests come in from the tenant.

We held regular joint Finance and Property / Elders meetings to continue to plan as a group and to review the accounts regularly.

We carry out regular maintenance checks on our buildings to ensure they are kept in good condition and this continued during 2025 – the buildings were regularly checked and were not left empty for any long periods of time. We continue to working through our buildings report and ensuring that important work was carried out to ensure the buildings remain safe. We have upgraded the lighting throughout the church and hall to LED to ensure cost saving on electricity bills. There were electrical upgrades done to ensure compliance with regulatory and insurance standards. The heating system has been brought up to standard and a management system has been introduced to ensure economic heating of the church and hall. There was a substantial saving attributable to the upgrade. We have also updated our risk register and reviewed our fire appliances and installations meet regulations.

Trustee Remuneration

The Minister is the only Trustee who would receive payment for their work. URC processes mean that all congregations pay a contribution towards the cost of ministry to URC offices in London based on what they can afford. The URC employs and pays ministers directly from these contributions, so that the individual churches do not have direct employment responsibilities. In 2025 the Bathgate church again contributed £20,000.

Other trustees may be reimbursed for items bought for church work, but none receive any employment costs.

Buildings

The value of our buildings reflected in the insurance of the property and buildings is adequate at this time.

The sum noted in our insurance in 2025 for the church and associated buildings and contents is £5,477,604.

The sum noted for the manse and contents is £399,847.

We also have two organs within the church:

One is over 100 years old and is currently insured for a sum of £497,154;

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves

We maintain a variety of restricted accounts where income and expenditure relate to specific commitments, and where these funds cannot be made available to meet other costs without agreement by the Property and Finance Committee or the Elders on behalf of the Congregation.

Charities account - which covers all collections made for specified charities during the year;

Compassion account - for our commitment to support two children overseas through the organisation Compassion.

Fellowship Fund - a small fund which allows members of the congregation to receive financial support in times of difficulty.

Synod fund – to identify donations made to support the work of the Synod of Scotland. There was no request from Synod in 2025.

Details of any deficit

2025 ended with a Net Surplus and a favourable bank balance.

Donated facilities and services (if any)

Many church members give their time for free to provide management, administration and other support services to the running of the church. This includes the time of the Elders/Trustees, the President, Secretary and Treasurer as well as members of various church committees. There is a small core team of members who take on a significant number of tasks including gardening and decorating etc and a lot of work has continued throughout 2025.

As well as time, members often provide goods without being reimbursed – this includes flowers for the church each week (which are then passed to those in need of support or recognition for special events) and items for hospitality events.

Donated services would include the work put in by Elders and other members of the congregation.

Respective responsibilities of trustees and examiner

The charity's trustees are responsible for the preparation of the accounts in accordance with the terms of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) 2005 Act and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). The charity trustees consider that the audit requirement of Regulation 10(1) (d) of the Accounts Regulations does not apply. It is my responsibility to examine the accounts as required under section 44(1) (c) of the Act and to state whether particular matters have come to my attention.

Basis of independent examiner's statement

My examination is carried out in accordance with Regulation 11 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations. An examination includes a review of the accounting records kept by the charity and a comparison of the accounts presented with those records. It also includes consideration of any unusual items or disclosures in the accounts and seeks explanations from the trustees concerning any such matters. The procedures undertaken do not provide all the evidence that would be required in an audit and, consequently, I do not express an audit opinion on the view given by the accounts.

Independent examiner's statement

In the course of my examination, no matter has come to my attention [other than that disclosed on the attached page*]

1. which gives me reasonable cause to believe that in any material respect the requirements:
 - to keep accounting records in accordance with section 44(1) (a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations, and
 - to prepare accounts which accord with the accounting records and comply with Regulation 9 of the 2006 Accounts Regulations

have not been met, or

2. to which, in my opinion, attention should be drawn in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.
