Introduction

This report was compiled by:

As independent examiner, I am satisfied that proper accounting records have been kept, complying with Regulations and find all accounts to agree with the records.

I do not believe there is anything that should be drawn to the attention of readers to help them understand the accounts and none of the following matters have become apparent:

- there has been any material expenditure or action not in accordance with the purposes of the charity
- that information they are entitled to has been withheld
- that there is a material difference between the accounts and the annual report prepared by the charity trustees
