Letter from the Chair

Dr Leanne Branton

FOUNDER AND CHAIR,
DIAMOND SMILES FOUNDATION

When we founded Diamond Smiles Foundation in November 2024, we did so with a simple belief: that no woman who has survived trauma or domestic abuse should be prevented from moving forward because of the condition of her teeth or the impact this has on her confidence.

As a dentist, I have seen throughout my career that dentistry can change far more than a smile. It can restore confidence, dignity and, sometimes, a sense of identity that has been lost along the way. The Foundation was created to use the skills, facilities and generosity already within our profession to make that care accessible to women who might otherwise never be able to receive it.

What has happened since has exceeded anything I imagined at the outset. In our first year, more than 50 women entered our care pathway, supported by dental professionals, volunteers, referral partners, sponsors and fundraisers who have given their time, expertise and belief to this work.

Behind every number in this report is an individual story. Some of the transformations have been visible in a smile; others have been seen in the confidence to apply for a job, retrain, reconnect socially or simply begin to feel like themselves again.

As Founder and Chair, I am incredibly proud of what has been achieved in such a short time. I am equally aware that this is only the beginning. The need is significant, and our ambition is to build a Foundation that is sustainable, responsible and capable of reaching many more women in the years ahead.

To everyone who has volunteered, donated, partnered with us, attended an event or simply believed in what we are trying to achieve: thank you. Diamond Smiles Foundation exists because of you.

Why We Exist

There is a moment that happens in almost every Diamond Smiles Foundation clinic. It is rarely the moment treatment begins. It is not when an implant is placed. It is not when a denture is fitted or the final crown is cemented. Instead, it usually arrives quietly. A mirror is handed to a patient. For a brief second the surgery falls silent. She smiles. Almost instinctively, her hand begins to move towards her mouth before stopping halfway. For the first time in years, she realises she no longer feels the need to hide.

Sometimes she laughs. Sometimes she cries. Sometimes she simply looks at herself for a little longer than expected. Those moments rarely appear in clinical records. They cannot be measured in financial statements. Yet they represent the reason Diamond Smiles Foundation exists.

Dentistry is often viewed as a profession concerned with teeth. Those of us privileged to work within it know it has always been about much more than that. Our mouths influence almost every aspect of daily life. We smile to greet people. We laugh with our families. We speak in job interviews. We eat with friends.

Oral health affects confidence, communication, nutrition, relationships and self-esteem in ways that are frequently underestimated until they are lost. For most people, access to dental care is something that can be planned, budgeted for or insured against. For many women experiencing domestic abuse, those choices simply do not exist.

The trustees believe oral health should never become another barrier to rebuilding a life. Once a woman has found the courage to leave an abusive relationship, she should not also have to carry the burden of untreated pain, missing teeth or the financial impossibility of restoring her smile.

Why We Exist

Recovery is rarely one dramatic event. It happens through hundreds of smaller moments. Attending a first appointment. Sleeping through the night without toothache. Eating comfortably again. Speaking confidently during an interview. Looking in the mirror without immediately focusing on what is missing.

These moments matter. Individually they may appear insignificant. Collectively they become life changing.

Diamond Smiles Foundation was established to ensure that women referred through specialist domestic abuse and addiction organisations could access comprehensive, high-quality dental care free of charge. We believe charitable dentistry should never be viewed as second best. Our patients deserve exactly the same standards of diagnosis, treatment planning, materials and clinical care that any clinician would wish for their own family. The only difference is that financial barriers have been removed.

Although dentistry is the service we provide, it is not the outcome we seek. Our ambition is much greater. We hope to restore confidence. Comfort. Function. Health. Dignity. Opportunity. Hope.

That is why we exist.

Not simply to restore teeth.

But to restore dignity through dentistry.

Reflections on the Year

Reflecting on Diamond Smiles Foundation's first full reporting period brings an enormous sense of gratitude. Like many new charities, we began with ambitious ideas, determination and many unanswered questions.

Would women trust us with their care?
Would clinicians volunteer their time and skills?
Would sponsors believe in our vision?
Could we build something both impactful and sustainable?

Looking back, the answer to each of those questions has been an emphatic yes.

Women have trusted us with their care. Volunteers have given their time and expertise. Sponsors and donors have invested in our vision. Referral organisations have trusted us with the women they support. We do not take any of that trust lightly.

Although this report contains statistics describing referrals, treatment, volunteers and fundraising, numbers alone cannot capture what has been achieved. Behind every referral is a woman taking another step towards rebuilding her future. Behind every volunteer clinic is a team choosing to spend their weekend helping someone they may never previously have met.

There have also been challenges. Demand has grown quickly, treatment needs are often complex, and delivering high-quality care through a volunteer-led model requires careful coordination and long-term planning. As Trustees, we have had to learn, adapt and strengthen our systems as the Foundation has grown.

We remain a young charity, and much work lies ahead. We know many women across Scotland remain unable to access the treatment they need. We see this not simply as a reason to grow faster, but as a responsibility to grow carefully, protecting our values, supporting our volunteers and using the funds entrusted to us wisely.

On behalf of the Board of Trustees, thank you to every person and organisation who has become part of our story. What has been achieved belongs to all of you, and we look forward to continuing this journey together.

At A Glance

Our Impact In Numbers

Our first full reporting period has provided valuable insight into the demand for specialist, trauma-informed dental care and the level of need amongst the women referred to us.

Between November 2024 and 31 March 2026:

Women referred into the programme	Women completing treatment	Women receiving active treatment
50	19	18
Women awaiting treatment	Volunteer dentists	Volunteer dental therapists
13	21	1
Volunteer dental nurses	Total clinical volunteers	Volunteer clinic sessions delivered
26	48	34

These figures represent the Foundation’s earliest stage of development and demonstrate both the significant demand for the service and the capacity created through volunteer support.

Demand continues to exceed current capacity and remains one of the Foundation’s principal strategic challenges moving forward.

Financial Summary

A Healthy Start

As a newly established charity, the trustees are pleased to report a positive financial position at year end.

The retained surplus will enable the Foundation to continue expanding clinical services, invest in future fundraising activity and develop sustainable long-term service provision.

Financial decisions continue to be guided by prudent stewardship and careful consideration of how resources can achieve the greatest public benefit.

Volunteer Profile

The Foundation remains enormously grateful for the commitment shown by every volunteer throughout the reporting period.

The Trustees recognise that without their willingness to donate professional expertise, the Foundation simply could not exist.

Partner Organisations

Partnership working is central to the Diamond Smiles Foundation model. As a referral-led charity, we work closely with trusted organisations already supporting women affected by domestic abuse, trauma and other significant life challenges.

During this reporting period, our principal referral partners have included Edinburgh Women's Aid & Lothians and Circle Scotland. Their teams play a vital role in identifying women who may benefit from our support, helping them engage with care and providing wider support beyond the dental setting.

These partnerships allow us to focus on what we do best: providing high-quality, compassionate dental care, while ensuring the women referred to us remain connected to organisations with the specialist expertise to support their wider needs.

We are enormously grateful for the trust our partner organisations place in the Foundation and look forward to strengthening and expanding these relationships in the years ahead.

Our Story

WHY DIAMOND SMILES FOUNDATION WAS CREATED

Diamond Smiles Foundation was founded in 2024 from a simple but powerful belief: that no woman who has survived domestic abuse should be prevented from moving forward because of the condition of her teeth.

The Foundation grew from collaboration with organisations supporting women affected by domestic abuse, through which we became increasingly aware of the barriers many women face in accessing the dental care they need. For some, the consequences of abuse, disrupted lives, financial hardship and difficulty accessing regular care had resulted in significant and complex oral health problems.

The impact extended far beyond physical health. Missing or damaged teeth, untreated disease and changes in appearance could affect confidence, self-esteem, social participation and the ability to move forward.

As dental professionals, we knew we had the skills to help. We also knew that across the profession there were clinicians, dental nurses, hygienists, technicians and companies willing to give their time, expertise and resources to make a difference.

Diamond Smiles Foundation was created to bring those people together and turn that willingness to help into a structured, compassionate and sustainable service.

THE PROBLEM WE ARE ADDRESSING

For women rebuilding their lives after domestic abuse, poor oral health can become another barrier to recovery.

Women referred to the Foundation may have lived for years with missing or damaged teeth, untreated decay, pain or complex dental needs. The reasons are rarely simple. Financial barriers, disrupted access to care and the wider consequences of abuse can all play a part.

The effects can reach into many areas of life. Some women may avoid smiling, photographs or social situations. Others may feel less able to pursue employment, education or participate confidently in their communities.

The specialist and reconstructive dental treatment required can often be financially inaccessible, leaving women with limited options even when they are ready to rebuild their lives.

Diamond Smiles Foundation exists to help bridge that gap.

Our Values

Compassion

We treat every woman with kindness, dignity and respect, recognising that each person arrives with her own experiences and story.

Excellence

Free care should never mean lesser care. We are committed to high clinical standards, thoughtful treatment planning and outcomes we would want for someone we love.

Trust

Trust sits at the heart of our work: between patients, volunteers, referral partners, donors and Trustees. We work to protect that trust through professionalism, transparency and responsible governance.

Collaboration

We believe meaningful change happens when people work together. Our impact is made possible by dental professionals, volunteers, referral organisations, sponsors, donors and supporters contributing their skills and resources.

Empowerment

Our aim extends beyond treating dental disease. We seek to support women in rebuilding confidence, well-being and participation in their lives and communities.

Sustainability

We are committed to growing carefully and responsibly, protecting the quality of our care and ensuring the Foundation can continue making a meaningful difference for years to come.

What We Do

Diamond Smiles Foundation provides free dental care to women who have survived domestic abuse, bringing together trusted referral partners, volunteer dental professionals and a structured clinical pathway.

Referral Pathway

The Foundation operates a referral-led model rather than accepting direct self-referrals. During this reporting period, women were referred through trusted partners including Edinburgh Women's Aid & Lothians and Circle Scotland, who play a vital role in identifying those who may benefit from our service while remaining connected to wider support.

Patient Journey

Every patient's journey is different. It begins with a comprehensive assessment of oral health, dental needs and individual circumstances. For some women, the first stage is stabilising oral health through preventive care; for others, the pathway progresses to complex restorative or reconstructive treatment — delivered, wherever possible, adapted to individual need.

Clinical Model

Care is delivered primarily through dedicated Saturday volunteer clinics at Southside Dental Care, typically held one to two Saturdays each month. Treatment may include:

- Oral health assessment and treatment planning
- Preventive and hygiene care
- Treatment of dental disease and extractions where required
- Restorative dentistry and replacement of missing teeth
- Complex reconstructive care and dental implant treatment
- Aesthetic treatment where part of an appropriate rehabilitation plan

Free care should never mean lesser care.

Trauma-Informed Approach

We recognise that for women who have survived domestic abuse, accessing dental care can be difficult for reasons extending far beyond the condition of their teeth. Our approach places dignity, choice, communication and respect at the centre of care — explaining treatment clearly, involving patients in decisions, and providing time and reassurance where needed.

Volunteer-Led Care

The Foundation's work is made possible by dental professionals who volunteer their time, skills and expertise — alongside others who support us through administration, fundraising, events and governance. Our volunteers are central to everything we do.

Driven by Purpose

Vision

A future in which women who have survived domestic abuse are not prevented from moving forward because the dental care they need is beyond their reach.

We aim to build a sustainable model of compassionate, volunteer-supported dental care that addresses barriers to treatment, promotes equality and enables more women to rebuild their lives with confidence and dignity.

Mission

To provide free, high-quality essential and specialist dental treatment to women who have survived domestic abuse, improving oral health and supporting physical and psychological well-being, confidence and social participation.

Our Impact in 2025–26

During our first reporting period, Diamond Smiles Foundation began turning an ambitious idea into a functioning clinical charity.

Patients Supported

In our first year, more than 50 women entered the Diamond Smiles Foundation care pathway. Each referral represents far more than a dental case: for some women, the Foundation provided stabilisation and reassurance; for others, it opened the door to complex reconstructive treatment that would otherwise have been financially inaccessible.

- More than 50 women entered the care pathway
- Patients referred through trusted partner organisations
- Care provided free of charge, through dedicated volunteer clinics
- Support ranging from oral health stabilisation to complex rehabilitation

Treatment Provided

Treatment during this reporting period included comprehensive assessments, prevention and hygiene care, restorative dentistry, extractions, replacement of missing teeth, complex reconstructive treatment, dental implants and, where appropriate, aesthetic treatment as part of wider rehabilitation.

Clinical Outcomes

Our clinical priorities are to stabilise oral health, remove pain and disease, restore function, improve confidence and well-being, and deliver care to the same standard we would wish for someone we love. As the Foundation develops, we intend to strengthen our clinical reporting so future reports can include more detailed outcomes and follow-up measures.

Building the Evidence Base

Key Findings

- Approximately 70% of women presented with severe dental disease requiring complex rehabilitation
- Many had experienced prolonged periods without routine dental care
- Financial abuse emerged as a significant barrier to accessing treatment
- Multiple patients required multidisciplinary care — periodontal therapy, oral surgery, prosthodontics and implant rehabilitation

From Evidence to Wider Conversation

The Foundation is using the evidence gathered through this work to develop papers for submission to dental journals, sharing our findings with the wider profession, helping open important conversations about the relationship between domestic abuse, trauma and oral health, and how trauma-informed principles might better support patients in dental settings.

Our ambition is not only to provide care to the women who reach our service, but to use what we learn responsibly to contribute to a wider understanding of trauma-informed dentistry.

Case Study: Rebuilding Confidence Beyond the Smile

One patient referred to the Foundation had been living with significant dental problems affecting her confidence, self-esteem and ability to move forward.

Through the Foundation, she received extensive reconstructive treatment to restore her smile and oral health, and following treatment, gained the confidence to retrain as a personal trainer, securing employment in a gym.

Her story captures the purpose of Diamond Smiles Foundation: the dentistry matters enormously, but the impact does not stop with the teeth.

A clinical transformation made possible through our care. Published with patient consent.

AFTER

Fundraising & Support

The work of Diamond Smiles Foundation is made possible by the generosity of individuals, businesses, sponsors, volunteers and supporters who believe in our mission.

During the reporting period, the Trustees focused on developing a diverse income base to support both immediate patient care and the Foundation's long-term sustainability, generated through events, donations, corporate sponsorship and other support.

How the Charity Is Funded

Income Source	Purpose
Annual Conference & Gala	Principal fundraising activity, awareness and community engagement
Charity Golf Day	Fundraising, awareness and supporter engagement
Donations	Public and individual giving
Sponsorship	Corporate support for events and Foundation activities

Fundraising Opportunities

Donations

Individual and public donations form an important part of our income. Every donation, regardless of size, represents someone choosing to support women rebuilding their lives after domestic abuse. We are deeply grateful to every person who donated during our first reporting period.

Sponsorship & Industry Support

Corporate sponsorship and industry partnership have played an important role in our development.

Key industry partners during this period included Dentsply Sirona, Neodent and the Association of Dental Implantology. Our laboratory partners (Bespoke Dental Laboratories, CM Ceramics, OTS Dental Laboratory and Ultimate Dental Laboratory) supported our work through donated or discounted services, a particularly significant contribution given the substantial costs of complex restorative care.

The Trustees extend their sincere thanks to every company and organisation that chose to invest in our vision during this early stage of the Foundation's development.

In-Kind Support

The value of support received extends far beyond financial donations. Our work is made possible by professionals and organisations contributing time, skills, facilities and materials: including the use of clinical facilities at Southside Dental Care, which enables our Saturday volunteer clinics to take place.

Looking After Donors' Money

The Trustees recognise that every donation, sponsorship contribution and pound raised at an event is given in trust. Our approach is guided by clear principles: funds advance our charitable purposes; expenditure is proportionate and justifiable; decisions support both current impact and long-term sustainability; and donors can trust their contributions are treated with care.

Fundraising Events

Beyond Teeth: Dentistry's Role in Whole Body Health Conference, 26 September 2025

Our inaugural charity conference brought together approximately 65 delegates for a day of high-quality dental education with a wider purpose.

The conference aimed to:

- raise funds for the Foundation;
- increase awareness of our work;
- deliver meaningful professional education; and
- bring together clinicians, supporters, sponsors and advocates.

The event was supported by multiple corporate sponsors and demonstrated how professional education can be used as a platform for both fundraising and social impact.

Fundraising Events

First Annual Black Tie Fundraising Gala, 26 September 2025

Held following the inaugural conference, our Charity Gala Dinner welcomed approximately 100 guests.

Hosted by DJ Boogie from Forth One, the evening provided an opportunity to celebrate volunteers and supporters, share the Foundation's story, strengthen relationships with sponsors and generate unrestricted charitable income.

Together, the Conference and Gala generated approximately £17,000 for the Foundation.

Beyond the financial result, these events helped build a community around the charity and introduced many people to its work for the first time.

Fundraising Events

First Ever Charity Golf Day Fundraiser, 11 May 2026

The Foundation's first Charity Golf Day brought together 28 golfers for a day of fundraising and awareness.

The event was supported by:

- Bespoke Dental Laboratories;
- Medipal;
- Neodent;
- Neoss; and
- Chase de Vere.

Approximately £3,000 was raised. The event also created new opportunities to engage supporters beyond the Foundation's core clinical community and further strengthen relationships with businesses and individuals who share our commitment to the charity's work.

Governance

Legal Structure

Diamond Smiles Foundation is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO), registered Scottish charity SC053754, governed by a Board of Trustees responsible for ensuring the charity fulfils its charitable purposes, uses its resources responsibly and complies with Scottish charity law.

Board of Trustees

The Board brings together a range of clinical, professional and organisational experience. Trustees serving during the reporting period:

- Dr Leanne Branton — Chair
- Mrs Aimi Branton — Trustee
- Dr Matthew Jerreat — Trustee
- Mrs Sarah Jane Troy — Trustee
- Mrs Penny Ford — Trustee

Governance During the Year

The Trustees met formally on a quarterly basis throughout the reporting period, with additional discussion as required. Key areas considered included strategic direction, financial sustainability, clinical and service development, volunteer capacity, partnerships, fundraising, risk and regulatory obligations. Governance arrangements continue to develop alongside the growth of the Foundation.

Clinical Governance & Safeguarding

Patient safety and quality of care are central to our work. Clinical volunteers are required to hold appropriate professional registration and indemnity, and work within their competence. Safeguarding and trauma-informed care remain particularly important given the experiences of the women we support.

Risk Management

The Trustees regularly consider key risks including financial sustainability, demand for services, volunteer capacity, clinical risk, safeguarding and data protection, and committed to ensuring the Foundation grows responsibly and in line with available resources.

Conflicts of Interest

Trustees are required to declare any actual, potential or perceived conflicts of interest. Any conflicts identified are managed appropriately to support transparent decision-making.

Looking Ahead

Our first reporting period has been about proving the model, building trust and establishing strong foundations. The coming year will focus on strengthening those foundations while growing carefully and sustainably.

The Trustees have identified five key priorities for 2026/27:

1. Increase Clinical Capacity

Growing our volunteer base of dentists, nurses and hygienists, and exploring expanded clinic availability - always with quality of care and patient safety protected.

2. Expand Our Reach

Developing relationships across Scotland, with a focus on plans for a future Aberdeen satellite clinic - approached carefully, in partnership with trusted local organisations.

3. Strengthen & Support Our Volunteer Community

A more formal induction process, improved communication and recognition, and new opportunities for volunteers to take on greater responsibility.

4. Build a More Resilient Funding Model

Expanding corporate partnerships, developing grant applications, exploring regular giving and legacy opportunities, and continuing to grow our annual events.

5. Strengthen Our Evidence & Reporting

Better recording of clinical activity, volunteer contribution and patient outcomes - including patient-reported outcome measures and longer-term evaluation.

Our ambition for Diamond Smiles Foundation is significant, but we remain committed to thoughtful rather than rapid expansion. The coming year will be about increasing impact without losing the values that shaped the Foundation from the beginning: compassion, clinical excellence, collaboration and respect for every woman who trusts us with her care.

Thank You

Everything achieved during this first year has been made possible by people choosing to believe in what Diamond Smiles Foundation could become.

To our volunteers who have given their time, skills and weekends; to our referral partners who have trusted us with the women they support; to our sponsors, donors and industry partners who have invested in our vision; and to every person who has attended an event, raised funds or shared our story - thank you.

Most importantly, we thank the women who have trusted us with their care. We never underestimate the courage it can take to walk through our doors.

Our first year has shown us what is possible when people come together with a shared belief that dentistry can change more than a smile. There is much more to do, but we move forward with strong foundations, an extraordinary community around us and a clear sense of purpose.

Thank you for being part of our story.
