TRUSTEE ANNUAL REPORT FOR FINAL ACCOUNTS YEAR END DECEMBER 2024

1

The year started with us in our new location in Exeter Harbour and there was a period of consolidation prior to preparation for the next phase of restoration. Firstly, we had to fit out our new workshop in a 40' container very kindly donated by the Exeter Canal and Quay Trust. We also had to design and commission a bespoke cover so that we could work on deck without being exposed to the elements. Making the frame took a while because it had to be designed from scratch and then built and tested. We also had to source the canvas and then wait for it to be made, which took some time.

Whilst all this was going on we were also making friends and networking with the Exeter Harbour community. We became friends with Co-Create a charity which works with people facing multiple challenges teaching woodworking skills who are based on the Quay near Britannia's berth.

In March, we hosted a visit from the senior management team of CCP a regional charity working with homeless young people that seeks to give them a new direction in life. They believe that once Britannia is fully restored and sailing again there will be an opportunity for us to take some of our young people sailing and give them a life enhancing experience.

April marked Britannia's 109th Birthday and we were lucky to have a dry day for the event. We were joined by Mariners Away and the Lynmouth Shanty Crew, who kept the visitors entertained with their singing. Co-Create provided delicious free pizza and the Harbour Development Manager lent us a gazebo.

The framework to support the canvas cover was completed in May and we were just waiting for delivery of the canvas. Meanwhile we were working on repairing and restoring the spars and keeping up with tool maintenance.

In June, we took part in the first Exeter Heritage Harbour Festival and hosted an open boat event with a stall on the Piazza and engaged with the wider community. We were also thrilled to be shortlisted for the National Historic Ships Martin Heighton Award an incredible honour that reflects the dedication of everyone involved. We were able to do some more networking at a planning and consultation day at the Custom House where discussions focused on the future of the Heritage Harbour. It was good to be a part of these discussions and shows that Britannia is a valued part of the whole harbour project.

July saw us finally completely cleared from Winkleigh, with the move of the last of the timber and ballast. While other volunteers continued to restore spars; and clean, sand and oil below decks ready for the arrival of the engine. We are also cleaning and painting the ballast a long boring and messy business to make sure that everything in the best possible condition as it will be out of sight we hope for the next hundred years or more.

There was another open boat event in August alongside a classic car meet on the Piazza. We welcomed many visitors aboard and shared Britannia's inspiring story. The cover finally arrived and was fitted during this month. This would enable work to take place under cover on deck in all weathers. It was not long before it was tested and was not found to be wanting.

September was busy. We had a stall at the Harbour Shanty Festival and we had visits from participants in that event and also we organised a visit from the Exeter Heritage Volunteer Group who we hope to collaborate with in the future. A major milestone this month was the arrival of Britannia's engine bringing us a step closer to the next chapter. With the assistance of fit, young, strong volunteers from Co-Create, we completed the repairs to the spars and installed the ballast.

We rounded the year off in November and December by sharing the Britannia story with various special interest groups such as the Royal Dartmouth Yacht Club. A sister project which is part of our charity, commenced planting saplings at Britannia Wood in North Devon. This is in collaboration with the National Trust who have made space available for us to plant 1200 trees suitable for wooden boat building when they are matured. This is part of our long-term commitment to keeping traditional boat building skills and wooden boats alive.

We were very grateful to receive grant funding in 2024 from:-
