APPENDIX 1

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period

Interaction Market Consultancy commissioned Heart Film to produce a series of documentary film productions focused on emerging developments in stem cell transplantation and CAR-T cell therapies.

The productions followed patients at different stages of treatment and recovery, documenting their experiences and the impact of advances in healthcare and medical research. The films also featured interviews with clinicians, researchers and healthcare professionals involved in delivering and developing these innovative treatments.

The aim of the productions was to increase public understanding of stem cell transplantation and CAR-T therapies, highlight patient experiences, and communicate the benefits and challenges associated with these rapidly developing areas of medicine. Through documentary filmmaking and educational content, Heart Film helped make complex medical information more accessible to patients, families and the wider public.

Heart Film also delivered the Callander Mental Health Matters project, supported through funding from Arnold Clark and Callander Community Health Matters. The project sought to raise awareness of mental health issues within the local community and encourage discussion, understanding and community participation through the use of music, movement and sharing experiences.

Through these activities, Heart Film furthered its charitable purposes by advancing education and promoting the arts through documentary filmmaking, media production and community engagement.
