Report from Chairperson

Introduction

Once again this has been an extremely challenging but very rewarding year for our charity. Our main challenges remain the same: funding and recruiting volunteers to fill the role of advocate. This is not unique to Include Me and many charities across Scotland are facing the same issues. This has not phased our staff and trustees, and I am pleased to confirm that in the year 2024-2025, Include Me has continued to deliver a highly effective contribution to the charity sector, achieving a consistent first-class standard of Citizen Advocacy throughout Northeast Fife.

As detailed in our report, our running costs are covered by an annual grant from Fife Council. Like many departments across government, they have had to make substantial savings, and the charity sector has been targeted as part of this legislation. After extensive work by the staff and trustees and a face-to-face meeting with Fife Council, a fair and amicable agreement was reached which ensures ongoing funding for this financial year. The charity is very grateful to [REDACTED] and to [REDACTED] our Fife Council Link Officer for their exceptional support and hard work in helping us through a very difficult and worrying period.

As stated, our other main challenge has been recruiting volunteers for the role of advocate. This has been a huge challenge since the COVID pandemic and finding volunteers appears to be an issue affecting the charitable sector all over Scotland. We have used every tool at our disposal to promote the excellent work we do, and through advertising and networking we continue to attract a constant trickle of volunteers. We regularly review our procedures and look to develop and implement new cost-effective strategies to meet this head on. We have totally transformed our website, we advertise in local publications across Northeast Fife and on the internet, our staff regularly go to fairs and to busy shopping areas, but our best source to find volunteers remains word of mouth in the local community.

We will continue to meet the challenges head on and will endeavour to meet the demands thrust upon us.

Trustees' Report

For the Year Ended 31 March 2025

We are actively looking at new strategies for recruiting and training new advocates and are always looking to improve how we support our partners. Our committee and staff believe in a team ethos and continue to work very closely together, which ensures we always provide a professional and high level of support to those who we support.

Notes of Appreciation

Running the charity and maintaining these high standards does not come easy and it would be remiss of me not to highlight the outstanding efforts of those individuals who have contributed so much to our charity over the past 12 months:

Advocates

First and foremost, we must once again say a huge thank you to our Advocates, who have continued to provide the highest level of support to their partners. These volunteers are very much on the front line, working to build and maintain confident and strong relationships with their partners, and in the process helping to change their lives for the better.

All our advocates are extremely dedicated, highly motivated, passionate and selfless individuals who really care about their partners and are prepared to deal with any issue no matter how complex. The support they continue to provide to their partners is truly remarkable and everyone involved in the charity are extremely grateful for their outstanding commitment.

Committee Members

Our current committee, [REDACTED] (Secretary), [REDACTED] (Treasurer), [REDACTED] (Business Advisor), [REDACTED] (Committee Members), are extremely talented and highly motivated individuals who provide a high level of support to the charity. They are all volunteers and have once again demonstrated the highest level of dedication, professionalism, and selfless commitment to ensure Include Me has continued to produce the highest standards of performance, governance and efficacy. They all bring a breadth of experience from working with other charities and in the business sector and I am hugely grateful for their drive, commitment and endless support.

Stewardship Group

Our Stewardship Group currently consists of five members who meet regularly with our Support Workers and provide unique and individual insights through their lived experiences of disability and/or mental health issues. As an organisation led by the experiences of the people we support, the Stewardship Group plays a pivotal role in helping ensure that those individuals remain front and centre of what we do and how we do it

Staff

We are extremely lucky to have two highly dedicated, knowledgeable, professional, and enthusiastic staff members, [REDACTED] who continue to use fresh, innovative, and inventive methods to improve the delivery of advocacy in Northeast Fife. They are a truly exceptional team, working together to ensure that the partnerships can flourish and develop with ease. They are both consummate professionals, and we are very grateful for the exemplary work they consistently deliver, and for the high level of support and advice they provide to the committee and our Advocates. This year they demonstrated the most selfless act by taking a voluntary reduction in working hours and wages so our charity could continue to operate. Include Me is very fortunate and very grateful to have [REDACTED] leading the line for us.

Link Support Officer

On behalf of all members of Include Me, I would like to say a very special and heartfelt thank you to our Link Support Officer, [REDACTED] for her hard work and steadfast support to our charity; we are extremely grateful for her honest, pragmatic, and timely advice, which is always well received. We look forward to continuing to work with [REDACTED] in the coming 12 months in a professional and positive manner.

Other Parties

Finally, I would like to say thank you to everyone outside the charity who have provided support and have flown our flag:

Our local Councillor, [REDACTED] has supported Include Me in many ways over the reporting period, including helping with fund raising and advertising our charity whenever the opportunity arises. We are extremely grateful that she takes time out of her very busy schedule to promote our excellent work and look forward to continuing this very positive relationship going forward.

A special thank you goes to everyone at the St Andrews Community Trust for their continued financial support, which has allowed us to run special projects, in support of our partnerships.

Include Me are very grateful to Hendersons Black & Co for providing a high level of professional financial advice to our committee. We look forward to continuing this excellent relationship over the next 12 months.

Lastly, we would like to thank the members of St Rule Golf Club who donated a sizeable cash donation, which has helped us considerably.

Summary

What we provide as a charity is truly exceptional and at every level we are blessed to have focussed and dedicated individuals who are working tirelessly for the benefit of others. The Management Committee, Staff and outside agencies must continue to work together to ensure we consistently provide the highest level of support to our Advocates and Partners.

We must never lose sight of our main goal, which is to create and support the development of Citizen Advocacy Partnerships and in the process ensure these individuals feel valued, can have a voice in society, and if they choose, to be active participants in their local community.

We should always be looking for ways to improve the way we deliver Citizen Advocacy, and our support for our amazing Advocates, but if we do make any changes, they must be measured, specific, long term sustainable and ultimately, improve the way the charity operates; we should never change just for the sake of change.

All personnel involved with the charity should feel extremely proud of the outstanding contribution they are making to changing and improving the lives of those who rely on our Citizen Advocacy services. We must take every opportunity to engage with the wider public, get our message out there and to promote ourselves in a positive light.

Thank you everyone for your outstanding service to our amazing charity.

Objectives and activities

Include Me Citizen Advocacy Service in Northeast Fife

Our aim is to enhance personal choice and community participation for vulnerable adults through citizen advocacy, supporting them to say what they want, secure their rights, represent their interests and obtain the services they need.

Funded by Fife Health & Social Care Partnership, Include Me provides a free, independent citizen advocacy service in North East Fife to vulnerable adults aged 16 – 65 who are affected by disability, chronic illness, dementia, autism spectrum disorder or mental disorder (including mental illness, learning disability or personality disorder), and who need support to safeguard their own-wellbeing, rights, care or other interests.

Include Me is managed by a volunteer management committee and staffed by two part-time development workers. It is their role to:

- Recruit suitable volunteers
- Train volunteers to become citizen advocates
- Match volunteers to referred people who meet the criteria
- Support the advocacy partnerships

Together, our organisation works in partnership with our citizen advocates and their advocacy partners. Our advocacy partnerships are underpinned by the principles of; Independence, Loyalty, Self-Direction and Equality with advocates endeavouring to be always instructed or directed by their advocacy partner. Advocates also enable their advocacy partners to self-advocate as far as possible – it is an empowering relationship. Our citizen advocates support people to get the information they need and to consider their options; they support people to be listened to, respected and understood.

Non-Instructed Advocacy

Some of our Advocacy Partners lack the capacity to instruct their advocates in either some or all of the work the advocate is undertaking with them. Using training and by building relationships with their partner – and those who know them best - our citizen advocates work hard to understand what is important to their advocacy partner, to ensure that they can be part of and influence decisions being made and that their rights are upheld. Our advocates try to ensure that certain decisions are taken with due consideration for all relevant factors which includes the person's unique preferences and perspectives.

Events

This year for the first time, we held a summer BBQ at Craigtoun Park for our partnerships and volunteers. This proved a hit with everyone. It was good to come together socially for both the volunteers and for some of the partners to meet up with friends they used to see regularly before day care facilities were cut back so drastically.

We also held our regular Christmas Gathering which this year took place in the Cosmos Centre in St Andrews. A local group 'The Lifting Lassies' provided some musical entertainment with some members enthusiastically joining in. These events are often the only time some of the trustees get to see the positive effects citizen advocacy has on those involved and it is wonderful to witness.

Achievements and performance

Include Me Citizen Advocacy outcomes

- Increased voice and personal control
- Improved Opportunities
- Challenging injustice
- Increased Independence
- Rights being upheld

Outcomes framework

Our outcomes framework defines outcomes in four impact areas. These are where we anecdotally hear stories of our advocacy service making a difference:

- In the lives of individuals who use the advocacy service
- In the way that the health and social care sector delivers and responds to advocacy partners
- In the way communities can support people to be included and enriched by advocacy partners' full participation and involvement
- In the way that our advocacy service learns, develops and grows

We find the above diagram best fits the nature of the long-term advocacy partnerships that we support as advocacy is often involved with outcomes that need to be seen as 'working towards' but not always 'accomplished'. By focusing on how the intervention is meant to work, the focus becomes on the extent to which the outcomes have been achieved.

We gathered and collated evidence from questionnaires, reviews and discussions. This demonstrates the significant positive impact and outcomes of Include Me Citizen Advocacy:

From the responses of volunteer advocates, it was revealed that 100% of those surveyed felt that citizen advocacy had empowered their partners to engage more actively in decision-making processes, with 57% agreeing and 43% strongly agreeing with this assertion. Furthermore, 87% of advocates indicated that citizen advocacy had facilitated the development of new support networks for partners within the community, effectively reducing social isolation.

Additionally, 72% of respondents agreed that their involvement with the individual had increased the likelihood of the person utilizing appropriate community services. One advocate highlighted their role in safeguarding a partner's rights and well-being by promptly raising concerns with staff regarding observable changes in the individual's condition, which led to timely medical advice and the prevention of a more serious health issue.

Separate surveys were also administered to stakeholders. Remarkably, 100% of respondents indicated that they believed the advocate partnership had positively influenced partners' engagement in decision-making and their understanding of their rights, with 29% agreeing and 71% strongly agreeing.

Trustees' Report

A health and social care key worker remarked on a non-instructed advocacy partnership, stating, "The Include Me advocate does an exceptional job, always prioritizing the individuals' best interests and advocating effectively on their behalf. The advocate maintains excellent communication with staff, ensuring a seamless process, and the individual partner could not ask for a better advocate."

Another stakeholder, (a care manager), expressed a strong belief that: "Individuals supported by Include Me advocates experienced an improvement in their overall well-being".

The following quotes are from Mr C during a partnership annual review meeting with Mr C and his advocate. Advocacy referral was made initially to help Mr C, an 18-year male with ASD, understand and make informal decisions about his life. The Advocate supported Mr C to develop his interest in graphic design and animation resulting in Mr C publishing his own comic book series. Mr C has continued to grow in confidence and independence during the five years of the partnership. Mr C moved to his first tenancy on his own in 2024. Mr C appreciates his relationship with his Citizen Advocate and the difference this makes.

Mr C completed a survey questionnaire and commented that: "I believe my support has helped me to get more used to talking to people. I feel more confident talking to someone who I know will respond in a non-judgemental, unbiased way. Also, I find it easier to broach certain subjects which I might otherwise have not felt comfortable discussing with my own family or other friend groups Advocacy enabled me to get used to regular social contact and friendships; in ways I had previously not been able to due to my disability."

Mr C went on to state: "I feel that advocacy has enabled me to better express what I actually want, rather than just saying what I think people will want to hear from me. Crucially, I know my advocate will respond in a way that is both non-judgemental and free from personal bias. Around the time I was first looking into advocacy support, I was being persuaded to try all sorts of social events and clubs. I feel that having that support not only enabled me to push forward with those things I wanted to stick with but also gave me the confidence to make it quite clear which things I did not want to go forward with. One of the main factors behind me choosing to give advocacy support a go was the fact that it struck a neat balance between giving me the support I needed, while also letting me have a proper say in how I received that support."

Looking Forward

Looking forward for the next 12 months our priorities are as follows:

- Increased voice and personal control to sustain our current high standards of management of the charity; in particular, sound financial planning, efficient management and governance, accountability, and transparency.
- Continue to provide the highest level of support to our advocates and partners.
- Continue to improve our methods of communication. Our new website is now completed and operational.
- Promote Include Me using all available media and social networking options and continue to raise awareness of the importance of independent advocacy and citizen advocacy.
- When required, recruit more high-quality personnel to the committee.
- Continue to recruit, train and pair up more high-quality advocates.
- Continue to work with other charitable organisations to share best practice.

Trustees' Report

For the Year Ended 31 March 2025

Reserves policy

The trustee's policy is to hold reserves to meet normal running costs for a minimum of three months.

With the ongoing difficulty in acquiring new external funding the trustees have taken steps to reduce expenditure where possible and staff have restructured their working hours for the upcoming year to ensure financial sustainability

Risk assessment

The trustees have assessed the major risks to which the charity is exposed and are satisfied that systems are in place to mitigate the charity's exposure to the major risks.

Financial review

At 31 March 2025 the charity had unrestricted funds of £11,761 (2024 - £14,294) and restricted funds of £8,648 (2024 - £8,737). The main source of funding for the charity is from grants and during the year grants of £46,817 (2024 - £42,069) were received. Payments for the year were £52,163 (2024 - £41,784) with wages of £43,609 (2024 - £32,128) being the main expenditure.

Structure, Governance and Management

The charity is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (a SCIO). It is governed by its constitution which was adopted on 1 January 2021.

The charity is managed by its board of trustees who meet on a regular basis, both in person and online to discuss strategic direction, governance and the day to day running of the charity.

The trustees and members of the committee undertake their duties on a voluntary basis.

This year has seen several changes within the management committee. We said goodbye to [REDACTED] our outgoing Treasurer in August after just over three years with the charity. [REDACTED] stepped up into the role and [REDACTED] took on the role of secretary.

Trustee recruitment and appointment

Potential committee members must submit an application to join the trustees. Recruitment may be made both from those already working within the charity (advocates) or from outside the charity. The Trustees will consider the experience and knowledge new members will bring to the charity. Any new Trustees need to be formally accepted at the following AGM. Outside organisations cannot appoint Trustees to Include Me.

Two new members joined the trustees in 2024, [REDACTED] (a current advocate) who brings a wealth of knowledge and experience in communicating with those with learning disabilities, and [REDACTED] who brings her experience in financial matters as well as a varied portfolio in charity work.

Both new trustees were ratified at the AGM held on 26 September 2024.
