APPENDIX 1

Reference and administration details

Names of all other charity trustees during the period, if any, (for example, those who resigned part way through the financial period)

Name	Dates acted if not for whole year

Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document	Blench Charter deed of Trust dated 29 November 1949 as amended in 1999 and as amended in the registered with ScotLIS on 09 January 2019 (Title ABN142547) to reflect the statutory annulment of certain feudal restrictions in November 2004.
Trustee recruitment and appointment	The 1949 Blench Charter as amended in 1999 disponed the Hall to three trustees specified as being the heritable proprietor of Kincardine Estate, the Minister of Christ Church, Kincardine O'Neil and the Minister of the Church of Scotland parish covering Kincardine O'Neil (which is now the Mid Deeside Parish church). The charter delegates the control and management of the Hall to a committee consisting of the three trustees as ex officio members and between three and seven local residents elected triennially by public meeting. The Charter requires annual accounts to be presented to a public meeting

Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes	To provide Hall accommodation (which use may include the provision of further education or facilities therefor) for the benefit of the inhabitants of the village and any others as the management committee may determine.
Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects	The framing of rules and regulations for the management of the hall; fixing charges for use; doing everything usual and necessary to make the hall useful and available for use; maintaining and insuring the building; ensuring persons renting the hall are appropriately instructed and advised; keeping detailed accounts and ensuring income is collected.
