Achievements, Performance and Future Developments

2025 was a year of contrasts for BCM Clyde Valley. While the numbers attending our clubs was reduced from last year the enthusiasm and involvement of the participants increased.

The trustees decided to continue using the communications package 'Zoom' for most of their meetings.
They met four times by zoom and once in person in 2025.

A Saturday monthly prayer time was inaugurated and was well attended. It helped bring volunteers and helpers together for at least a short time each month.

The clubs meeting in various schools and one community centre were enjoyed by the children. They all benefitted from their weekly fun, competitions and stories.

Our monthly teen event called MERGE continued with great enthusiasm, the teens loved being together at the various afternoon activities and evening events. An overnight camp in November continued the bonding process in what we believe may be life-long friendships.

Though the bookings for the camps were slow in coming they continued with encouraging attendances and enthusiasm. Our faithful volunteer staff made it a joy to be with them.

BCM were invited to present the children's ministry at the Refuel Christian Festival. This was appreciated by the festival team and the parents. We have been invited to take part in the festival next year.

Our Citroen 'Space Tourer' continues to serve us well.

We continue to be thankful to Kilsyth Community Church for providing us with a room on the ground floor which we use as a base for staff meetings and an administration office.

Luana applied for her visa to be extended through the national office. This was refused and on appeal it has gone to 'Administrative Review'. She is free to remain and continues to serve at several of our clubs and using her talents in producing publicity and publication materials. However this brings a lot of uncertainty to the team, especially Luana and family.
Junior continues as the Academic Dean at Tilsley College Motherwell. This continues to open up opportunities to make our work known to the students, who are some of the future leaders in the Christian church in Scotland and in other parts of the world.

Irene Paget, Fiona Blyth and Luana Pereira were involved in the 45th Annual Scottish Ladies Weekend Conferences. Some 70 ladies enjoyed and benefited from their time away. The costs of the weekends continue to increase and this has affected the numbers attending.

The UK staff conference for 2024 finally took place at the end of January 2025 and was appreciated by all who attended.
The European conference was held in the Netherlands. This was also a celebration of 75 years of BCM ministry in that country. Irene, Stanley and Fiona were privileged to attend.

The trustees are satisfied that the Clyde Valley finances continue to be well managed and stable. The mission staff continue to oversee the use of the legacy via BCM International (UK) Anchor Trust explicitly for the wider work in Scotland.

In general, as a committed group of staff and volunteers we were pleased with 2025 and look to how we can continue to move forward with our work.
