Objectives and activities

Mission Statement

"Building brighter futures for the Armed Forces Community through the healing power of creativity."

The ACVC HUB (Allen Clarke's Veteran Craftsman) is a grassroots charity dedicated to nurturing mental health and well-being through the transformative power of traditional arts and crafts.

We offer a safe space where members of the Armed Forces community can find solace, inspiration, and camaraderie as they engage in creative pursuits.

Through our supportive environment, we strive to empower individuals to not only craft beautiful works of art but also to forge meaningful connections, cultivate new skills, and embark on a journey of healing and personal growth.

Honour the past, celebrate the present, and build a brighter future together.

Background - Allen Clarke

Allen Clarke is an Army veteran who served in the Royal Regiment of Fusiliers for 18 years. He was deployed to Northern Ireland, Iraq, Kenya and Kosovo, where he witnessed and experienced a vast range of events. After leaving the military in 2014, he was diagnosed with complex PTSD and multiple traumas. He lost his home, his family, and his sense of purpose. You can read more about his story here: https://combatstress.org.uk/allens-story

In 2016, Allen attended a 6-week mental health rehabilitation program at Combat Stress. During the program, he learned pyrography, a form of art that involves burning images into wood. Pyrography helped Allen to express his emotions and to cope with his trauma. He found that he was able to focus on the present moment and to let go of the past. After completing the program, in 2018, Allen started his own art club for veterans at the Scottish Veterans Residences (SVR). He wanted to create a space where veterans could come together to use art as a way to heal and recover. The hub quickly grew in popularity, and in August 2021 it was registered as a charity. Today, ACVC Hub welcomes between 35-85 members a week ranging from 25 to 97 years old. The hub offers a variety of programs and services, including art classes, workshops, and support groups. Allen is passionate about helping veterans heal and recover, and he is committed to making ACVC Hub a success. He believes that art and crafts can be a powerful tool for healing and recovery, and he is excited to see the impact that the hub can have on the lives of veterans.

Art and Craft Sessions: Armed Forces Community (Veterans, spouses and carers)

- Pottery, painting, pyrography, and woodwork have become more popular than before.
- On Wednesdays, our woodwork tutor has been working with members to create highly skilled wooden lidded boxes.
- The project also benefited from more volunteers specialising in pottery, offering members a broader insight into the world of ceramics. We became members of the Scottish Potters Association (Charity SC048850), opening numerous opportunities for our members to get involved.
- Despite a setback when our resin printer volunteer broke his leg, we are adapting by recruiting new volunteers to fill this role.
- Unfortunately, Art Psychotherapy students were unable to join us due to strikes and staff shortages on their end. However, we remain in touch with the university and hope to participate in the program next year.
- Referrals from Veterans 1st Point, Combat Stress, SMART, and many other charities continued throughout the project. These organisations often accompany veterans for the first few sessions until they are comfortable with their surroundings.
- Blesma Scotland experienced a quiet period due to a change in their outreach officer but has since resumed visits, attending two arts and crafts sessions.
- The VC Hub continues to attend monthly sessions.

Archery Setup: Offering archery sessions to develop new skills and stay active. Technical Skill Development

Listed below are the aims and personal goals of some of our members they have been working on over the last year with guidance and input from the tutors.

Member 1 - Developing stonehenge sculptures. Trying different clays and glaze techniques, review and evaluate the results. Help from the tutor and with his own trial and error experimentations he has already found new exciting results.

Member 2 - improving the quality of thrown items on the pottery wheel through practise and feedback from the tutors. To gain a better understanding of handbuilding by tackling new projects to push him out of his comfort zone. The hub has supported him through a variety of workshops already to help him achieve this goal.

Member 3 - to continue to create paintings for other members which makes them smile, and gives David a great sense of achievement

Member 4 - to improve her home baking by trying alternative recipes to tweak her current range as well as new ones. She always appreciates feedback from the members, staff and volunteers at the hub.

Member 5 - to improve his pyrography designs by learning shading techniques to take his current work from flat graphic style to more artistic painterly works of art. He has already made huge improvements due to the knowledge he has gained from just the one session at the hub sitting with our tutor.

Member 6 - to improve his paintings by trying different subject matters. He is learning alot about colour theory, brush types and paint application from our tutor (who has been training in painting over the last year) as well as hints and tips from other members.

Member 7 - to create art works across a variety of mediums to get a better understanding of light and shade as well as learn skills using different materials. The Veterans Foundation enabled the hub to purchase new materials to make this happen.

Member 8 - to create garden sculptures and plant pots to combine his love of gardening with pottery. His recent makes included mushroom fairy rings to decorate plant pots, making bonsai pots for his mother's bonsai collection and making a strawberry pot to grow his own.

Member 9 - to learn more about model making, specifically painting. He brought in a project which he started at home without any previous experience or supervision which he is now stripping back to the bare plastic to start over based on the knowledge he has gained at the hub.

Member 10 - to advance his woodworking skills by mastering traditional hand tool techniques, an area new to him. He is currently working on creating a lidded box featuring a hinge, box joint, and fastener

This initiative aims to enhance the environment while providing a tranquil and creative space for the community to connect and engage in various activities.

World War II Horse and Soldier Sculpture

The ACVC Hub is honoured to receive a full-scale World War II horse and soldier sculpture on loan from The Royal Scots Dragoon Guards Museum & Archive in Edinburgh. This impressive piece will be painted and displayed at the Hub, offering visitors a unique opportunity to appreciate the historical significance and craftsmanship.

Rangers Foundation Cash Back Programme

The ACVC Hub is partnering with the Rangers Foundation to support young offenders through a series of arts and crafts workshops. These 4-week sessions, held every Monday, will introduce participants to creative outlets like pottery and pyrography. The program aims to provide a positive and constructive environment, helping young offenders build new skills and improve their lives through artistic expression.

Financial review

Summary

The total income for the year was £128,826 with the main income coming from grants and donations.

The expenditure was £112,650 covering the running costs of the charity and the activities to support the physical and mental wellbeing of the veterans. The surplus for the year was £12,176 related to both unrestricted and restricted income that is planned to be spent in 2024. The charity closed the year with £23,210 in bank.

Reserves policy

At the end of the year the charity had £26,943 of total reserves. The trustees recognise that due to the nature of the current funding arrangements, it is difficult to accumulate reserves as funding is restricted to a particular project. The trustees are considering new funding streams so that funds for 3 months running costs can be held to cover the organisation when further funding is being sought.

The trustees' annual report was approved on 6th December 2024 and signed on behalf of the board of trustees by:

Independent Examiner's Report to the Trustees of ACVC Hub

I report to the trustees on my examination of the financial statements of ACVC Hub ('the charity') for the year ended 31 December 2023.

Responsibilities and basis of report

As the trustees of the charity you are responsible for the preparation of the financial statements in accordance with the requirements of the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005 (the '2005 Act') and the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). You are satisfied that your charity is not required by charity law to be audited and have chosen instead to have an independent examination.

I report in respect of my examination of the charity's financial statements as carried out under section 44(1)(c) of the 2005 Act. In carrying out my examination I have followed the requirements of Regulation 11 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended).

Independent examiner's statement

Since the charity has prepared its accounts on an accruals basis your examiner must be a member of a body listed in Regulation 11(2) of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended). I can confirm that I am qualified to undertake the examination because I am a registered member of ICAS which is one of the listed bodies.

I have completed my examination. I confirm that no matters have come to my attention giving me cause to believe that in any material respect:

- 1. accounting records were not kept as required by section 44(1)(a) of the 2005 Act and Regulation 4 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended); or
- 2. the financial statements do not accord with those records; or
- 3. the financial statements do not comply with the accounting requirements of Regulation 8 of the Charities Accounts (Scotland) Regulations 2006 (as amended).

I have no concerns and have come across no other matters in connection with the examination to which attention should be drawn in this report in order to enable a proper understanding of the accounts to be reached.

Incoming resources

All incoming resources are included in the statement of financial activities when entitlement has passed to the charity; it is probable that the economic benefits associated with the transaction will flow to the charity and the amount can be reliably measured. The following specific policies are applied to particular categories of income:

- income from donations or grants is recognised when there is evidence of entitlement to the gift, receipt is probable and its amount can be measured reliably.
- legacy income is recognised when receipt is probable and entitlement is established.
- income from donated goods is measured at the fair value of the goods unless this is impractical to measure reliably, in which case the value is derived from the cost to the donor or the estimated resale value. Donated facilities and services are recognised in the accounts when received if the value can be reliably measured. No amounts are included for the contribution of general volunteers.
- income from contracts for the supply of services is recognised with the delivery of the contracted service. This is classified as unrestricted funds unless there is a contractual requirement for it to be spent on a particular purpose and returned if unspent, in which case it may be regarded as restricted.

Resources expended

Expenditure is recognised on an accruals basis as a liability is incurred. Expenditure includes any VAT which cannot be fully recovered, and is classified under headings of the statement of financial activities to which it relates:

- expenditure on raising funds includes the costs of all fundraising activities, events, non-charitable trading activities, and the sale of donated goods.
- expenditure on charitable activities includes all costs incurred by a charity in undertaking activities that further its charitable aims for the benefit of its beneficiaries, including those support costs and costs relating to the governance of the charity apportioned to charitable activities.
- other expenditure includes all expenditure that is neither related to raising funds for the charity nor part of its expenditure on charitable activities.

All costs are allocated to expenditure categories reflecting the use of the resource. Direct costs attributable to a single activity are allocated directly to that activity. Shared costs are apportioned between the activities they contribute to on a reasonable, justifiable and consistent basis.

Financial instruments

A financial asset or a financial liability is recognised only when the charity becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

Basic financial instruments are initially recognised at the amount receivable or payable including any related transaction costs.

Current assets and current liabilities are subsequently measured at the cash or other consideration expected to be paid or received and not discounted.

Debt instruments are subsequently measured at amortised cost.

Where investments in shares are publicly traded or their fair value can otherwise be measured reliably, the investment is subsequently measured at fair value with changes in fair value recognised in income and expenditure. All other such investments are subsequently measured at cost less impairment.

Other financial instruments, including derivatives, are initially recognised at fair value, unless payment for an asset is deferred beyond normal business terms or financed at a rate of interest that is not a market rate, in which case the asset is measured at the present value of the future payments discounted at a market rate of interest for a similar debt instrument.

Other financial instruments are subsequently measured at fair value, with any changes recognised in the statement of financial activities, with the exception of hedging instruments in a designated hedging relationship.

Financial assets that are measured at cost or amortised cost are reviewed for objective evidence of impairment at the end of each reporting date. If there is objective evidence of impairment, an impairment loss is recognised under the appropriate heading in the statement of financial activities in which the initial gain was recognised.

For all equity instruments regardless of significance, and other financial assets that are individually significant, these are assessed individually for impairment. Other financial assets are either assessed individually or grouped on the basis of similar credit risk characteristics.

Any reversals of impairment are recognised immediately, to the extent that the reversal does not result in a carrying amount of the financial asset that exceeds what the carrying amount would have been had the impairment not previously been recognised.
