Objectives and activities

The Trust's primary goal is to support sustainable development. Its main purposes are to promote community development and active citizenship, as well as to provide recreational facilities and activities designed to improve the quality of life for local residents.

Structure, governance and management

Type of governing document

The charity is a Scottish Charitable Incorporated Organisation (SCIO) with a written constitution as a governing document and primary legislation is the Charities and Trustee Investment (Scotland) Act 2005

Trustee recruitment and appointment

Trustees are appointed on a volunteer basis, and we still have the original trustees from when the SCIO was formed.

Financial review

The Carmichael Community Development Trust received a microgrant of £500 from the Carmichael Community Council as start-up funds. There has been minimal expenditure and a balance of £464 remains.
