

and in a small way help to defray running costs. The Society does not employ anyone and relies solely on volunteers.

The Society participates in The Scottish Civic Trust's annual Doors Open weekend in September and networks with other local organisations (and attends events) where appropriate. A monthly family/local history afternoon has been arranged with two of the Trustees offering their expertise on 'family history research'.

Membership of the Society is by payment of an annual fee and members are encouraged to volunteer as guides during opening times. A quarterly newsletter is emailed or posted to all members and other interested bodies.
