Objectives and activities

Charitable purposes	To support families affected by childhood cancer throughout Scotland in a broader sense raising awareness of childhood cancer. The charity's primary aim is to provide families who have a child undergoing treatment both short- and long-term support that encourages a positive outloc and focus for the family. To achieve this the charity runs key programmes as well as the possibility of very specific grant awards depending on the child or family's need.
Summary of the main activities in relation to these objects	Logan's Sunny Days is the charity's respite caravan facility which offers key holiday and family time together in a relaxed setting. The caravan is a haven f families with a child receiving treatment, for post treatment and for bereaved families. As well as providing a vacation facility the charity also arranges and funds all activities for the family during their stay. The facility is available all year-round. Always a Rainbow is the charity's sponsorship programme giving primarily children the opportunity to take part in the activities that treatment may have prevented them doing both due to the sacrifices made and also financial restrictions. The programme also recognises the sacrifices siblings make and will sponsor them also as well as parents. This is a long term programme that encourages development, learning new skills, building confidence, creating friendships and having fun. Our grant programme now focuses solely on granting puppies. We have an upper limit of granting 6 per year in order to protect our operating funds. This programme has proved a unique and life changing initiative. The charity also provides specialist drysuits to children receiving treatment to allow them to swim and play in the sea etc. As well as offering general grants where anything that will improve or help the family circumstances will be considered.

APPENDIX 1

Achievements and performance

Summary of the main achievements of the charity during the financial period	The continued success of Logan's Sunny Days which has proved a real haven for families who have enjoyed using the facility. The facility is used by around 30 families in the year. Because we organise and fund a family's week of activities while on their respite break this eases the financial burden as well as giving them a memorable week of experiences they may otherwise not have done. Always a Rainbow has continued to grow year on year with new interest being generated each week and new participants starting their own specific activities on a regular basis. We believe this to be a quite unique programme that will continue to grow and grow. Children as well as parents throughout Scotland are now participating on the programme and reaping the benefits. The charity's name has continued to grow and the volume of work and levels of support we offer families increased despite the charity being run entirely by volunteers.

Financial review

Brief statement of the charity's policy on reserves	Because we rely mainly on fundraisers and donations our charity reserves are at a modest level to cope with any dips in cash flow coming into the charity while still being able to operate consistently throughout the year. Due to the difficulties experienced in balancing fundraising with demand we have a critical point of £10,000.00 available funds where we will consider reducing services offered.
Details of any deficit	N/A
Donated facilities and services (if any)	N/A
